Moderate inflation, robust labour market, and steady performance across key sectors sustain Malaysia's positive economic momentum

The Malaysian Economic Statistics Review (MESR) Volume 12/2025 edition focuses on the recent statistics released in October 2025 and some forthcoming statistics for November 2025. On top of that, this edition features an additional article titled "Performance of Malaysia's Agrofood Sector from a Production Perspective" which highlights that Malaysia's agrofood subsector demonstrated strong growth across key commodities, with vegetables leading the expansion, followed by spices, fruits, and industrial crops.
